This is a stand alone luxury 6 bedroom residence that celebrates the old world charm of traditional Greek building design – sparkling white walls contrasting with window frames and shutters in a shade of blue as deep and vivid as the Aegean. The amenities and interior design are totally 21st century.

There's a large pool and veranda for entertaining, complete with barbeque and pizza oven, in true Mediterranean style. Interiors and furnishings are by talented UK designer Gareth Johns and his partner Celia, who have created a contemporary space with classic overtones, featuring moulded stone banquettes set with thick upholstery. Pergolas with bamboo battens – a typical Mykonian design feature – keep things authentic.

The villa casts its 180-degree gaze westward across the sparkling waters of the Aegean, with views of the nearby islands of Naxos and Delos.

It is situated in Pirgi, just five minutes from the airport and 10 minutes to the island's hub of restaurants, clubs and boutiques, while the world famous Paradise beach club is just half a kilometre distant.
