This charming newly built 3 bedroom property dominates the landscape from atop a verdant hill above the Bay of Farangas, on clear days the breathtaking view reaches up to Antiparos and Sifnos in the distance. The villa is designed to provide outdoor living at its best, the private infinity swimming pool plays a fundamental role in the exteriors of the property, cleverly inserted into the grey marble terrace in prime position overlooking the sea.

The owners have chosen to have both living room and dining room on the outside only, these two areas are located above the pool and between the two buildings composing the house; the first is comfortable and intriguing with plenty of sofas and colorful pillows to lay on, while the adjacent one features a dining table for six with a magnificent sea view. There is wifi internet access and a Sonos sound system.

A classic Cycladic contemporary architecture characterizes the main building, which houses the master bedroom with en-suite bathroom and access to a small private terrace overlooking the pool and the sea, and the fully equipped modern kitchen, which opens functionally towards the outdoor dining area.

The guesthouse, similar to the previous one and situated at the opposite end of the property, incorporates two simple and informal guest bedrooms, again with en-suite bathrooms and air conditioning.

This wonderful property combines comfort and stylistic simplicity in the best possible way, perfect for a relaxing stay away from the noise and busy environments.
