This is a Moroccan style 6 bedroom house, situated on top of the mountains above the San Lorenzo Valley, in central Ibiza. The main house forms the shape of a large cross, with the focal point being the central courtyard. The courtyard and pool form the fulcrum for the rest of the house, with all rooms leading from it.

From here one reaches the water gardens with small lake and a domed, octagonal, open sided tea house, accessed by crossing a small footbridge. It is a romantic place to relax with a book or as the name implies, drink tea. Past the lake and the tea house are the formal Moorish gardens, with boxed style hedging, lollipop shaped organic trees, fountains and a water run to the wooden pagoda.

In front of the house is a large swimming pool with infinity edge and spectacular views to Formentera. Beside the pool is a sun terrace and Bedouin style tent with a dining table seating sixteen. There are two further dining tables under the wooden pagoda near the kitchen, which is fully equipped for gourmet cuisine. There are several sitting areas within the house, one with an original fireplace and bay windows with cushions. Music can be piped to kitchen, lounge, courtyard and master bedroom. In total, there are five double bedrooms and four full bathrooms, all tastefully furnished with the finest materials and linens and mosquito nets. There is an additional single bedroom with shower at the rear of the house.

The house is close to the beaches and nightclubs and restaurants, this centrally appointed villa is perfect for both leisurely days by the pool and enjoying all that Ibiza has to offer.
